

Annotation

This diploma thesis is focused on social work in home hospice care. The aim of the thesis is to map and describe the specifics of social work in particular mobile hospice organization Cesta domů, z. ú.. First, a palliative and hospice care is defined in the thesis with respect to current situation in the Czech republic. In the following part I define the needs of a dying person in home care. I also discuss potential sources of financial support for the families. Part of the thesis contains investigation based on interviews with social workers from organization Cesta domů, z. ú.