

Abstract:

This thesis will deal with the position of the church in people's democracies in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary. How were these countries affected by this establishment and their settlement (compensation) after 1989. It also considers the ethical impact of the people's democracy on the religious identity of the population of Bohemia after the Velvet Revolution.