

ABSTRACT

The bachelor thesis is about the system of education in the years 1939-1945 in the territory of the former Protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia, it describes how the system of education and schools gradually changed from the beginning of Protectorate until the end of the Second World War. It is focused mainly on general, bourgeois, apprentice, vocational and grammar schools. It combines historical milestones with changes in the education system, as they were influenced by the propaganda and Board of Trustees for the Education of Youth in Bohemia and Moravia, led by Emanuel Moravec. It focuses primarily on official state education. It is sourced from the literature and memories of the witnesses. The purpose is to summarize all the important information about the functioning of schools at the time.
