

The work defines a social exclusion and its specificity. It describes a influence housing policy of state and towns on a origin social excluded localities. It describes subjects, that can influence a housing policy. It describes other factors of origin social excluded localities. It focus on social work with social excluded people. The work thinks over using method of individual social work or social work with communities in social excluded location and if Romany social worker can work better with Romany clients than majority social worker.

The work describes social excluded localities in the town Chomutov in the practical part of work. It maps housing policy of the town Chomutov and its influence on origin or restriction social excluded localities. It takes notice of a social services, that help social excluded people and people in housing presure.