

This theses refers to basic terms of job satisfaction and factors with impact on it. The work refers further to factors of working environment with influence on job satisfaction of nurses. The work describes job satisfaction from global view. Job satisfaction and satisfaction in life have close relationship and own manifestation.