

Diploma work deals with problems of the new non-medical health branch at the secondary school – health assistant branch. The aim of the work is to map dominant motivation factors of choice existing in academic branch, to find out, where would future graduate like to search for the fulfillment and to compare attitudes to this branch in the particular year – classes. The effort of this diploma paper is to contribute to a wide discussion about the present situation of non-medical health workers education.