

The dissertation deals with different approaches to nursing the ill and injured during the Crimean war. The objective is to compare the life stories (related to nursing) of Mary Seacole, Florence Nightingale, and Nicolay Ivanovitch Pirogov. The dissertation is composed as a historically comparative and qualitative research.