

The Graduation Thesis is focused on tracing the obstetrics, its history and the best - known characters of each period. How this field has developed until the present days. Analysis of the present - day midwives both during the studies of this field and those with a few - years' experience.