

The bachelor thesis called „Bullying among pupils at secondary school“ is divided into two parts, namely the theoretical and the practical. The theoretical part contains five main chapters, in which we find for example definition of bullying, its types and forms, its causes or development of bullying stages. Then this part deals with bullying actors, who include the aggressor, victim, witness and pedagogue. Next I mention bullying from the legal point of view. In last but not least I devote by diagnostics, investigation and consequences of bullying. The last chapter is focused on prevention. In the practical part I find out an experience of pupils with bullying throughout the questionnaire at selected secondary schools.