

Abstract

Title: Oral care of patients with intermaxillary fixation

The bachelor's thesis deals with various types of intermaxillary fixations (IMF) from the point of view of a dental hygienist. It focuses on their advantages and disadvantages in regard to the implementation of dental aids. The thesis is enriched with by its own practical investigation of the state of oral care in patients with IMF and a comprehensive view of the orthognathic patient during their course of IMF treatment. The result is practical leaflets, designed to simplify the selection of the right aids for a given type of fixation ensuring optimal care, for patients and maxillofacial surgeons.

Keywords: dental hygiene, intermaxillary fixation, orthognathic operation