

The topic of his thesis Contrast sensitivity and early diagnosis

Glaucoma I chose on the basis of their interest in the field of ophthalmology.

The problem of glaucoma (glaucoma) holds in this field very large chapter.

Glaucoma is a handicap when are typical changes in the papilla the optic nerve, the corresponding lunge field of view and in some cases before it can be detected and increased intraocular pressure. glaucoma disability becomes a social problem, especially because it can over the years to result in the complete loss of vision, if not timely therapeutically shot.