

My work is focused on rise of social problems and social pathological phenomena in Chomutov location and relation between man, his surroundings and its influences in young people context. There are lots of books with this themes, but I was interested in my ability of describing this by myself. There was made a research at basic schools, I compared its results with results of official statistics and I got to knot that this locality has good conditions for rise of social pathological phenomena. This does not mean, that the locality is not able to live in a healthy way, it is just needed to create conditions for that kind of life. Writing of this work make me knot how important are places in our lives. I hope I would be one, who will support the positive conditions of my future place to live.
