

Multiplex endangering health injuries which pertinent to traffic accident in the most case, can have influence to our life. Their occurrence is for example related to raising speed of traffic vehicles or alcohol and drugs. For next restoring of health is also very important first-aid treatment and emergent uptake in hospital. The necessitates not only expertise and experiences of doctors but also medical material and medical instruments support with many up to date diagnostic methods. The most important action is safeguarding and support of basic health functions. Next step is well-timed diagnosis and urgent treatment of endangering health process. Nurse services on ARO department are not only work with medical devices and some specialized medical help. In the first place we can talk about complex attention care with establishing of any demands and requirements and involvement prevention with no self-sustaining patients.