

Accidents in old age is an issue which should be addressed. They represent the serious and specific items of morbidity in the elderly. Their severity is except in life-threatening to reduce the loss of self-sufficiency. It has subsequently negative impact on quality of life of old man. Accidents seriously threaten the health and life of the affected individual, but they also have far-reaching impact on its immediate social environment. Are costly to society. The severity and very many accidents related to health and functional status of seniors. it is why it is necessary to pay attention to this issue is preventi.V many possibilities and scope for preventive measures not only educational and organizational interventions, but also improving the overall (physical and mental) condition of the old man and ensuring decent conditions for full life in old age.