

Abstract

The thesis deals with the topic of life trials in the book Sárachovec. First, it shows the analysis of keywords based on biblical commentaries, vocabulary, and exegesis, taking into account basic psychological aspects. It also discusses the exegesis of selected parts that describe life trials, where at the end of each chapter it is summarized what can be seen as a life test.

Keywords

The trial of life, The Sirachian, the fear of God.