

Annotation

The diploma thesis called The issue of confidentiality and notification obligation in the low-threshold center for children and youth and in the authority of social and legal protection of the children deals with the conflict of mandatory confidentiality and notification obligation and its resolution. Respectively by looking at the issue by individual social workers in various social institutions. These are social workers from low-threshold centers for children and youth and social workers from authorities for social and legal protection of children.

The diploma thesis is divided into two parts, a theoretical part and an empirical part. The whole work contains ten chapters and subchapters.

The aim of the diploma thesis is to find out whether social workers in low-threshold centers for children and youth and in authorities for social and legal protection for children resolve the conflict of mandatory confidentiality and notification obligation by a more ethical or legal point of view.