Attempt: regular

Course of defence: Reviews mentioned as a main problem rather an eclectic and mixed structure where it's hard to see clear division between theory, methodology and the case. The second problem is that the text switches between micro (country) and macro (regional) level because of the lack of access to Polish (Polish written) sources, it was proposed that in that case would be useful to employ a comparative approach. Reviews propose B, B, and D, exam board decided to give C as a final mark.

Result of defence: very good (C)
