

Abstract

The theses deals with the theme of pastoral meeting with parents requesting the baptism of a child, based on documents of the Magisterium for the Pastoral of Sacraments in the Vicariate of Kolín. The first part of the thesis deals with the most important documents of the Magisterium and the Pope Francis' speeches on the baptism of children. The aim of the second part of the theses is to investigate the state of putting the recommendations of the Magisterium's documents into practice in the Vicariate of Kolín. The research method is structured interview with the individual vicars of the vicariate. The data were classified into ten thematic areas. The final evaluation identifies the problems related to the implementation of the magisterium's documents into practice. The evaluation also proposes recommendations to address the problematic issues.
