

Forensic social work

Martina Stehnová

Praha, 2022

Summary

This bachelor thesis deals with forensic social work, introduction to the issue, description of the methods of forensic social work and definition of the role of a forensic social worker. The aim of the bachelor thesis is to describe the current state of forensic social work in the Czech Republic and to present its possible use and benefits based on examples of good practice from abroad.