

Abstract

This bachelor's thesis deals with the topic of the relationship between an individual and the totalitarian state in Andrey Platonov's work, based on his novel "The Foundation Pit". This work will offer a perspective on historical context. The aim of this work is to pinpoint the type of the characters' identity based on their relationship with ideology and society, their motivations and actions.