

Abstract

Author: Petr Kovárník

Supervisor: PhDr. Ivana Vláčilová, Ph.D.

Title: Case study of physiotherapy treatment of a patient after total ankle replacement

Objectives: The goal of my work was to study and summarise the knowledge about the artrosis of an ankle joint and the condition after total ankle replacement. Part of this work is a practical part, which presents a case of study of a patient with this diagnosis.

Methods: Every method used in this work comes from bachelor's study of physiotherapy at FTVS.

Results: Fyziotherapy treatment provided improvement in almost every criteria of the clinical state of the patient.

Conclusion: Summary of the work

Keywords: ankle joint, total ankle replacement, arthrodesis, osteoarthritis, physiotherapy