When you got paid about $20 for a bunch of stock photos many years ago, and you obviously hate having your photo taken, but you're a famous meme and people want to take selfies with you all the time

The screenshot shows a search engine interface with a blue header. On the left, there is an 'Upload' button with an upward arrow icon. To its right is a search bar containing the text 'Paste or enter image URL' and a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar, a search result is displayed. On the left of the result is a small thumbnail of the 'Les Horribles Cernettes' promotional image. To the right of the thumbnail, the text reads '965 results' followed by 'Searched over 53.2 billion images in 1.1 seconds for: static.wixstatic.com/media/19559d_6b0f7b0b94edc9b4b2fe6f0...'. Below this text are two checkboxes: the first is labeled 'Include 14 results not available' and the second is labeled 'Show only 3 results found in collections'. At the bottom of the search results area, a line of text states 'Using TinEye is private and we do not save your search images.'
