

ABSTRACT

The diploma thesis deals with the possibilities of participation of the parents or other close persons of the patients during the hospitalization of the child. The aim of the diploma thesis is to map the aspects that influencers participate in. The diploma thesis is divided into a theoretical and a practical part. In the theoretical part, I focus on theoretical knowledge related to the topic. The empirical part is processed using the method of qualitative research using semistructured interviews. The information found during the research investigation is compared in the discussion with theoretical anchoring of the topic.

Keywords: hospitalization of child, accompanying a child patient, participation, participation in care, multidisciplinary team
