Verbal evaluation, distinctive features of the author, and the thesis:

Eliška Sáňková, under the mentorship of Dr. Ramon Portillo, PhD, consistently demonstrated an exceptional commitment to her research during her tenure in our laboratory. Her diligence, analytical prowess, and strict adherence to laboratory safety were truly commendable. Moreover, her proficiency in managing experimental data and delivering articulate presentations of her findings stood out. Eliska's strong work ethic, collaborative spirit, and unwavering motivation make her an ideal candidate for pursuing doctoral studies. Her exceptional abilities and positive attitude not only reflect her potential but also make her a highly recommended choice for a successful PhD program.

Evaluation of the thesis: Excellent
