

Dissertation is focusing mainly on woods history in region Krivoklat in industrialization and industrial revolution period (half of 18th century – year 1939). Besides coal and steel, the important raw material used in epoch of industrialization was a wood, that contributed to Krivoklat estate and Krumlov domain blossom. In dissertation I compare this two regions in light of management with local forests. In Krivoklat region, there was wood for the most part utilized by industrial enterprises situated in estate area. In Krumlov region, there was wood utilized largely on export.
