

Abstract: The aim of the work is a general description of the phenomenon of scientific equipment sharing and, more specifically, a mapping of the catalogue of shareable scientific equipment Equipment.data.ac.uk and an analysis of its current content.

Furthermore, a comparison is made with projects of a similar focus in the Czech Republic and abroad. The assumptions and the possibility of implementing a similar national project in the Czech Republic are examined.