

ABSTRACT

This thesis is about communication between teachers and parents during school events at a first-grade primary school. The comparison is made between the communication of different types of schools, specifically Catholic, Jewish, private, and state schools. The aim of the thesis is to analyze and compare the procedures of teachers from different schools in communication with parents.

KEYWORDS

school events, communication, teacher, parent, school climate