

Abstract

Bachelor thesis „Critical voices against the expulsion of Germans in 1945-1946 on the pages of Czech periodical press“ focuses on texts criticizing the expulsion from the time period where expulsion took place in selected Czech periodicals. Part of the thesis is covering the contemporary context, focusing on the emergence of the concept of expulsion, issues of post revolutionary months in 1945, Postdam Conference and organized expulsion in 1946. Thesis furthermore encompasses an analysis of the texts related to the expulsion from three contemporary periodicals. Analysis covers the texts from weekly paper Obzory from years 1945 and 1946, further the texts from weekly papers Vývoj and Dnešek from 1946. Analysis of the texts from the listed periodicals illustrate the way in which was the expulsion of Germans criticized at that time.