Title: Multi-athletics competitions at modern Olympic Games and international events

Objectives: Purpose of the bachelor thesis is to describe the history of athletic multi events at the Olympic Games, World Championships and other international events. Furthermore, also to show and describe the development of performances at the mentioned events.

Methods: The method of analysis is used in this thesis. The results of athletic multi events at international events from 1912 to 2023 are analyzed. The development of the world record and individual results of selected male and female athletes is also studied in this period.

Results: Through this thesis, I have mapped the development of athletic multi events, including its scoring tables, based on the study of selected sources. Using graphs, I have also illustrated the performances of the top three male and female competitors in the selected events.

Key words: athletics (track and field), multi events, Olympic Games, World Championship, European Championship, world record, outstanding athletes
