

Abstract (in English):

This bachelor thesis analyses the archival system of Ukraine.

The first two chapters deal with the emergence and development of archival infrastructure in Ukraine and focus on the activities of the Ukrainian archival system in the past and present.

The following chapter focuses on the functioning of the State Archives of Zaporizhia oblast within the archival system of Ukraine: the content of its collections, its legal status, its historical development and an overview of the official website of this archive.

The last chapter describes the main problems of the archival system and attempts to solve them.