

Abstract (in English):

The subject of this bachelor's thesis are the charters of Premonstratensian monastery in Teplá from the year 1300 to 1419. It focuses on their diplomatic analysis, their extrinsic and intrinsic elements and their comparison across the examined period. Special attention has been paid to the used diplomatic phrases and their transformations across the examined charters. The thesis also includes a brief summary of the monastery's history, focusing on the pre-hussite period.
