

In this thesis, we present a proof of Bass's Theorem P, a theorem characterizing perfect rings, using elementary tools from module theory and category theory. Next we introduce Bergman's example of ring that is perfect on only one side, show that Artinian rings are perfect, rings which are Noetherian and perfect are Artinian, and finally, that perfect domains are division rings.