

This bachelor's thesis deals with the possibilities of eliminating the singularity occurring in JNW and the Fisher metric using perturbation methods. The work is focused on the search for perturbation with radial dependence, several possibilities for the JNW metric, including overdetermined systems, are explored, for the Fisher metric just one. Overall, no suitable solutions were found.