

Abstract

This thesis consists of two parts: a translation of The World and Theories, being the first chapter of J. R. Pierce's textbook Symbols, Signals and Noise: An Introduction to Information Theory, and the translator's analysis and commentary on the translation.

keywords: information theory, communication, mathematical theories, physical theories, theorem, proof