Verbal evaluation, distinctive features of the author and the work:

The student signed up for the DT in the third year when he started the bibliographic research. The biggest part of its elaboration occurred in the fifth year, when he was in practice in his country and the form of online communication took place. The student was proactive, and willing to make the recommended corrections. Due to some more serious errors of a rather formal nature, he had to make more corrections at the end and finish certain parts of the paper, which he did well. Therefore, overall I rate his work positively as very good.

Evaluation of the thesis: Very good
