The presentation was rather brief but very clear and well prepared, with individual chapters presented in chronological order (different from that in the thesis itself). The supervisor summed up the progress of Grzegorz's studies and the reasons for a relatively long time they took. Both referees then summarized their reviews, recommending the thesis for acceptance. The candidate replied to their comments and questions clearly and with confidence, having supporting visual materials for some answers ready. The reactions to questions raised by the committee members were also adequate. Overall, the defense has proven the candidate's abilities and understanding of the topic. All is well that ends well.
