

Bachelor thesis The first five years of the A2 cultural magazine discusses the emergence, development, contents and significance of the Czech cultural magazine A2, which was established in 2005 and exists in our media landscape till today.

Firstly, the work deals with the circumstances of its origin and its direction, then consistently devoted to the description of cultural and political context of cultural magazines in the reference period 2005-2010. The focus of the whole work is an analysis and description of the journal A2 from various angles, together with an outline of its development.