

This paper describes the recent possibilities of a new method of the control of glycemia in the patients with diabetes mellitus - continuous glucose monitoring. It shows the technical characteristics and it's principles. The benefits of this method are demonstrated by the results of it's use on two diabetic patients.

The paper is consistent and fulfills the criteria for the diploma work.

30th of March, 2010

ass.prof.Jan Broz, MD
Head of Departement of Diabetology,
Endocrinology and Metabolism
Tel.: +420 267168133
Email: zorb@seznam.cz