

Evaluation of Diploma Thesis:

Topic: Prevention of Complications in Treating and Caring for the Geriatric Patients.

Autor: Annette Lia

Tutor: Doc. MUDr. Pavel Tesinsky

Summary:

The submitted paper deals with the topic of treatment and care for geriatric population, including preventive measures.

The paper is a review based on literature sources concerning the geriatric patients. The introductory section describes the evaluation of the geriatric patient and the state-of-the art of their treatment and care. In the review section, the main problems of the geriatric population are discussed, including nutrition and hydration care, and preventive approaches to the most frequent diseases associated with the elderly.

The Thesis has a standard form elaborated in a good duality. The literature sources are sufficient. The formal performance of the paper fully covers the demands for a Diploma Thesis.

I recommend this diploma thesis for the opposition procedure.
