

Select domestic violence (DN) including children as the theme of my thesis I build on the completion of elective courses from the third and fourth year of general medicine, which in my case were solely focused on similar issues by which I am interested perhaps in the future. It was a tour-like courses in social Pediatrics, the risk of damage to healthy child development and violence against children. The theme of work is ordered as part of a larger whole, that is domestic violence. meets all criteria of the parent unit, but is selectively targeted to the pediatric population and has its own division. Closely intertwined with the themes syndrome tortured, abused and neglected child = CAN (Child Abuse and neglect). The relationship of the work and said syndrome unbalanced and it is hard to talk about the superiority or inferiority of both phenomena. topic work

Indeed, apart from this syndrome is not concerned only about the children as victims, but also as actors of violence, whose victims are always children. Another difference is the sole link to home environment. The domestic violence involving children is only part of the CAN.
