

Title: Haemophilia and its complications in the musculoskeletal disability, the possibility of Physiotherapy.

Target: To summarize the knowledge about haemophilia, its clinical symptoms, manifestations of the locomotive apparatus and an overview of treatment possibilities. To search in the literature about appropriate physiotherapy for patients with haemophilia and to process them into a coherent overview.

Method: To summarize information about haemophilia and an overview of physiotherapeutic treatment options via literature review.

Conclusion: The obtained information shows the positive benefits of physiotherapy for patients with haemophilia as a preventive and curative therapy.