(Kontextuální exegese a analýza etických požadavků Tóry) The Attributes of God, revealed in Ex 34,6-7 as the Motivation's Basis of the Imperative of the Socio-ethical Norms of the God's people
(The Contextual Exegesis and the Analysis of the Ethical Requests of the Torah)

The doctoral dissertation „The Attributes of God, revealed in Ex 34,6-7 as the Motivation's Basis of the Imperative of the Socio-ethical Norms of the God's people“ presents the contextual exegesis and analysis of the ethical requests of the Torah, resulting from the attributes of God. It acquaints the reader with the publications of the theologians of the last two centuries to this issue and continues in the research in the specific way. The dissertation brings some new views and actual stimulations for each, i.e. also for the contemporaneous communion of the God's people.
