

Abstract

This bachelor thesis is focused on the clients with chronic intestine disease that is Crohn disease and ulcer colitis. The thesis is divided into two parts - theoretical and practical. The theoretical part describes anatomy, history and characteristics features of the two non-specific disease. Second half of this part occupies with the quality of chronically ill person's life. The results of anonymous questionnaire are arranged and later evaluated in the practical part as well as goals determination and hypotheses. At the end of bachelor thesis there are discussion and conclusion.

Key words:

Crohn disease

ulcer colitis

quality of life

chronic illness

client

respondent