

In this thesis, the library marketing and its specific forms are described. In the first theoretical part is introduced the Jiří Mahen Library. The library marketing and its application is in the second part of the work. The third empirical part contains the SWOT analysis. There are questionnaire form, graphs, evaluation and some improvements in the marketing tools in the last chapter.