

This thesis is focused on protection of real property ownership in chosen EU states. Above mentioned topic is explained from general point of view but the thesis especially aims on acquisition of real property by foreigners and its theoretical aspects from the international private law point of view also. At the end of the thesis the topic is also analyzed within the international investments protection.

Key words:

Foreigner, property, ownership