

Summary

Marriage is God`s wanting and blessed relationship between man and woman. Already with creation God assigned humane creature to be equal even though they are different. God created man and woman to be for each other love each other and support each other. Example for them have to be God`s love to his chosen people, whom he loves with unconditional love. Wedlock is a sacrament sacred and holly. According the Bible teaching, monogamy and unfaithfulness are sin.

Child is for the couple God`s gift, whom he is blessing, loves and have a special plan for. Children are blessings and pride of the parents. Family with many children is assurance for keeping faith and be strong and together at time of suffering. Family is participation in God`s creature.

Responsibilities for each member in the family, helps matured each person. Husband and father have the responsibility for his wife and children before God and society. He also is commissioned to secure financially the family and support their traditions and religious life. Woman as a mother and wife with caring love arranges home for her children and husband. She is can not be subjected to her husband, as we learned unfortunately from the history, because that`s against God wish.

Marriage as a gift and also commission could be an example for today`s modern and materialistic society where traditional family is losing value.

Ones again, Bible reminds marriage as inseparable and holy relationship between men and woman. We have to be aware of the consequences of acting against God`s plans toward family and human beings. It is calling to return to the source of all God`s understanding for human being.
