

Abstract

The thesis deals with analysis and comparison of two literary utopian models of reality. There is Čapek's novel War with the Newts and Erenburg's proze Trust D.E.. Both of this work have a warning tenency. Both also ends a global catastrophe.

We are trying analyze researched texts by the following aspects: the nature of the characters, their function (in storyline, within the model of a fictional reality etc.), narrative forms and changes perspectives, utopize principles and dystopian current representation, shown environment, globalization of the fictional world. The thesis includes summarizing and evaluation applied of mounting types.