

Abstract

The aim of this thesis is to translate one chapter (Film and Postmodernism: Woody Allen's Annie Hall) from the book Closely Watched Films: An Introduction to the Art of Narrative Film Technique. The theoretical section contains an analysis of the source text, describes the translation method used and identifies the main translation problems and shifts that occurred.