

The purpose of my thesis is not just to understand who Jesus Christ was in Koran and what role he played, but also to show that he was an important and respected person not just in New Testament but also in the main book of Islam – Koran. Nowadays when Islamic radicals get in Christian lands and show themselves as true muslims doing disaster, profane people have bad opinion regarding the whole Islam in general and not every man knows that there is even written about Jesus in Koran. That's why I find important to create some kind of dialog between Islam and Christianity, to show that the most important person of Christian religion, Jesus, is respected in Koran, being human being, and to explain why Islam can't allow to take Jesus as divine being. Of course I will mention Marie – mother of Jesus, who is another important person in Christianity and Islam and who can't be mother of God in Islam. The reasons why Jesus can't be Allah's son will be mentioned as well. And also I will use comparing analysis of Muslim and Christian Jesus for better understanding who muslim Jesus is and what mission for humankind he already brought and will bring in future.
