

Bibliographic identification

PRESL, Aleš: Comparison of selected match performance parameters performances in modified forms of football. [Diploma thesis]. Charles University in Prague. Faculty of Physical Education and Sport. Department of Sports games. Supervisor: PhDr. Mario Buzek, CSc. Prague: FTVS UK, 2015.

Abstract

Title: Comparison of selected match performance in modified of football

Objectives: The objective is to compare game parameters in match and detailed analysis

Methods: The work uses the indirect observation method in selected game performance, which I have used a video recording. I analyzed the parameters to record sheets. I statistically evaluated data.

Results: We found frequency selected parameters. Passing, handling, set selection. Results presented what kind of game parameters it is the match most often frequency

Keywords: Modified forms, match performance, handling, of passing, set selection, individual match performances